3RD INTERNATIONAL VEXAS WORKSHOP

Milan, September 24-25, 2026

Following the success of the previous meetings in Paris (2024) and New York (2025), we are delighted to announce that the 3rd International VEXAS Workshop will take place in Milan, September 24-25, 2026.

Building on the strong momentum of these earlier editions, which fostered global collaboration and deepened understanding of this newly defined autoinflammatory condition, the Milan workshop will further expand the international dialogue on VEXAS syndrome.

In 2026, we will once again bring together leading clinicians, researchers, geneticists, biologists, and specialists across hematology, rheumatology, immunology, and disease modelling to explore the rapidly evolving landscape of VEXAS syndrome. The VEXAS Workshop will highlight advances in genetics, clinical spectrum, and therapeutic strategies, with a particular emphasis on integrating emerging scientific insights into pathological mechanism, patient care, and disease management.

A dynamic scientific programme will include interactive case-based sessions, keynote lectures, and multidisciplinary panels designed to connect discovery with patient care. Participants will have the opportunity to share experience, challenge current paradigms, and define the priorities that will shape future research.

This year, two educational sessions will be included. The aim of this sessions is to provide participants with practical tools to recognize, interpret, monitor, and manage the inflammatory and hematological features of VEXAS syndrome in daily clinical practice. Through case-based discussions, the workshop will support the development of a structured differential diagnostic approach in patients presenting with systemic inflammation and/or unexplained hematologic abnormalities. Emphasis will be placed on critical clinical reasoning and on how to appropriately raise and investigate diagnostic suspicion and monitor disease evolution, including the rational use of laboratory, imaging, and genetic testing to confirm the diagnosis.

Our goal is clear: to make Milan 2026 a pivotal step forward in the collective effort to understand and treat VEXAS syndrome. The 3rd International VEXAS Workshop will be the place where collaboration, insight, and innovation come together to improve patients' lives.
